2020-2021 SUMMARY OF OUTREACH ACTIVITIES

I. Training:

- All WRR staff have completed the Biannual Equity & Ethics training virtually in 2020 through the City of Dallas' training software Learning Zen.

II. Community Education Services

- May 2020: Dallas Symphony Orchestra Teen Council podcasts: WRR worked with the Dallas Symphony Orchestra Teen Council, a group of musically passionate teens intending to pursue music after high school, to produce a series of podcasts on various subjects relevant to the field. Staff representative: Amy Bishop.
- May 2020: WRR was the radio sponsor of the Carter Blood Care blood drive to offer free promotion via radio spots and an interview. Staff representatives: Amy Bishop, Patricia Guajardo.
- October 16, 2020: WRR was represented in the University of North Texas Media Arts Freshman Frenzy, a job fair/advising session with new freshmen interested in pursuing media arts to help them navigate through their first year of college. UNT media alums tell the students a little bit about their experiences of getting started in the industry and answer questions from students. Staff representative: Amy Bishop.
- November 21, 2020: WRR was the radio sponsor for the City of Dallas' Deck the Plaza community event. The contactless holiday drive-thru featured a celebration of lights at City Hall Plaza, open to the public. Staff representative: Amy Bishop.

- January 2021: WRR partnered with the Souper Bowl of Caring, a youth-inspired movement working across the nation to tackle hunger in their local communities. The initiative benefited the North Texas Food Bank. Staff representative: Amy Bishop.
- March 2021: WRR partners with the Dallas Symphony Orchestra and The Concert Truck for a series of free pop-up community concerts at various locations, including traditionally under-served neighborhoods. Staff representative: Amy Bishop.
- March 2021: WRR again participates in the University of North Texas Media Arts Career Kickstarter, a job fair event where UNT media arts students visit with representatives from the industry to find out about opportunities in various areas of media. Staff representative: Amy Bishop.
